Imprint Change On Chilean LAN Airmail

Two values of the current Chilean LAN (Linea Aerea Nacional — National Air Line) airmails have been noted with a new imprint, according to Guillermo Preuss, Casilla 3794, Santiago, Chile.

Both the 10 Peso light green and the 20P. brown were released without prior notice with the former imprint "Especies Valoradas de Chile" replaced by "Casa de Moneda de Chile", in the marginal space immediately below the bottom portion of the design.

Mr. Preuss states further that the Mr. Preuss states further that the new adhesives are on paper slightly whiter than the preceding printings, and that the authorized editions are 1,500,000 for the 1P.; 5,000,000 each for the 3P. and 10P.; and 6,000,000 for the 20P. high value. The 1P. and 3P. denominations have not yet been released, he added.

Juniors will occupy the stage — and their collections will fill the trames — at the San Antonio Philatelic Assn. meeting in the Witte Museum. San Antonio, Texas May 22. "JUNEX", the all-junior event, will offer some excellent prizes for the successful young stamp enthusiasts.

The San Antonio seniors feel that more than lip service and a handful of mixture now and then is needed to convert inquiring youngsters into junior collectors and eventually into senior philatelists. JUNEX is one senior philatelists. JUNEX is one of their many activities in this direc-

Communist Canceled-To-Order Paper Adds Propaganda Tinge To Existing Philatelic Taint

Postmarked stamps which still have original gum—proving that they never served any postal duty—are familiar to veterans, but raise a logical question in the minds of beginners. While such "canceled-to-order" specimens serve a very definite need, they generally are spurned by informed philatelists. They were introduced more than half a century ago and still are being produced by the ton in many areas of the world. To understand them, one, must realize that a stamp has no intrinsic value: a legitimistally issued one merely represents an amount of money.

To understand them, one, must realize that a stamp has no intrinsic value: a legitmiately issued one merely represents an amount of money, paid in advance, a citizen has given to a postal administration for charges made for the delivery of a piece of mail when the stamp is properly affixed to it.

A stamp's value to a collector is determined by the philatelic market's law of supply and demand, and is based solely upon avocational popularity.

Profit a Factor — As early as 1870, some postal administrations — not-some postal administrations — not-some postal administration in the integrity of their administration, even though they were certain the stamps never would be some place.

September 29 Commemoratives To Feature Berlin's Battling Mayor Of Early Post-War Era

The late Ernst Reuter, former Mayor of Berlin, will become the fifth "Champion of Liberty" to be recognized by the United States when new 4c and 8c stamps are placed on sale at Washington, D. C. on September 29. Those previously honored by similar stamps were Ramon Magsaysay in 1957; Simon Bolivar and Lajos Kossuth in 1958; and Jose de San Martin in February of this year. Both denominations will feature a medallion with a likeness of Reuter, and the wording "Ernst Reuter, Mayor of Berlin, 1947-1953" encircling the "In honoring Ernst Reuter," Postmaster General Arthur E. Summer field said, "we are remembering a man who worked for humanity, justice and personal dignity, ideals for which any true lover of freedom must live and fight. After being persecuted and imprisoned by the Nazis, he went into exile abroad. Returning to Germany immediately after World War II ended, he worked tirelessly to establish free democracy and rebuild his city out of rubble.

"It was his courage and leader—"

The Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes to the postmaster, Washington 13, D. C., with remittances to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. Each envelope must be marked, in pencil, in the upper right corner indicating the denomination, or denominations, to be affixed, and the number of stamps (singles, pairs, blocks).

An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope his work," PMG Summerfield emphasized.

In both instances the new stamps will measure 0.85 by 0.98 of an inch, arranged vertically. The wording "Champion of Liberty" appears across the top in dark Gothic lettering, and "United States Postage" across the bottom. The denominations are in the lower right.

The 4c value will be printed on the Cottrell press in sheets of 70, electric-eye perforated, in an edition of 120 million, while the 3c will be printed on the Giori press in sheets of 72. An order for 40 million has been placed. Colors for both stamps will be announced later.

The models for both stamps are based on the initial concept for the "Champions of Liberty" stamps developed by Arnold Copeland, William H. Buckley and Ervine Metzl of the Postmaster General's Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee.

Two Vatican Sets Scheduled May 25

The long awaited Vatican set in tribute to the martyrs of Emperor Valerianus will finally arrive May 25, according to Vittorio Lo Bianco of New York City. Originally on the calendar to appear almost a year ago, it was delayed by various reasons. Principal of these was the death of Pope Pius XII.

At one time considered in terms of five values, a sixth was added before the day of issue was finally set. Total face value of the sextette will be 550 Lire, or about 90c U. S.

A second set, previously unan-nounced, will appear on the same May 25 first day. In two values, it will commemorate the 30th anni-versary of the signing of the Later-an Pact between the Vatican and the Italian government. Italy has al-ready issued a single this year to note the event, and in 1954 both Italy and the Vatican issued pairs to mark the 25th anniversary of the 1929 accomplishment.

World Airmail Show August In Cologne

An International Airmail Exhibition "LUPOSTA", organized by the German Aero Philatelist's Club, will be held in Cologne, Germany, August 21-30. The big event will note 1959 as a most important year in the commemorative history of aviation.

It was in 1889, 70 years ago, that Otto Lilienthal made gliding flight a practical science. Fifty years ago, in 1909, the first aviation meeting was held at Rheims, France and the first Channel crossing in an aeroplane was made by Bleriot.

The year 1919, 40 years ago, was a memorable one in aviation history, as it was then that Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Whitten-Brown made and Sir Arthur whiten-Brown Made the first successful trans-Atlantic nonstop airplane flight. This year also saw the double Atlantic crossing — first lighter-than-air Atlantic flight made by Major G. H. Scott in the British Airship R34 as well as the first flight from England to Australia by Sir Ross Smith to Australia by Sir Ross Smith.

It was 35 years ago, in 1924, that the United States Army made its first round-the-world flight, followed first round-the-world flight, followed five years later, in 1929, by the air-ship Graf Zeppelin with its epoch-making globe girdling tour. In 1939, 20 years ago, the first jet aircraft was flown by Heinkel, and in this same year, the United States inau-gurated, its trans-Atlantic airmail service.

The exhibition will also coincide with the issuance the same week of the United States 7c "Balloon Jupiter" airmail stamp commemorating airmail stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of the first "airmail" to be carried in the bal-loon Jupiter at Lafayette, Ind. by John Wise and John La Mountain.

20 Years Of High Class Merchandising

When a merchant dealing in Philatelic Merchandise, which means

When a merchant dealing in Philatelic Merchandise, which means other than postage stamps, completes 20 successful years it is really worth mentioning. We are referring to the August Brothers, operating as the Washington Press and producers of Artcraft First Day Covers and White Ace Stamp Albums. If our recollection is correct we believe they produced their first First Day Cover for the New York Worlds Fair stamp. We can be mistaken about this as we have not been coached by these gentlemen and are writing wholly from memory of their past activities.

After starting into the First Day Cover

After starting into the First Day Cover business they changed over to the beautifully engraved line which they have produced ever since. Their covers were the first of this high quality and since then others have entered into the field of engraved cachets.

Following several successful years in the cover field they finally put in the market a series of White Ace Album pages which have been no less successful than their FDC's. been no less successful than their FDC's.
Their operations have been in a very high class manner, which has been greatly responsible for their success as their customers are scattered from coast to coast.

Beginning in the month of April they celebrate their 20th year. We sincerely hope they will continue in the future as in the past and that in another 20 years they will maintain the high position that their products have enjoyed in the past two decades.

the past two decades.

If You Collect Triangle Stamps

I always like to give out information that will be helpful to other collectors and believe that I am fully justified in announcing that I have sold my collection of "Triangle" stamps which I have built over the last fifteen years. It had grown to such size that it was mounted in five albums, two of stamps off cover, and three of stamps on cover. It was well along towards completion and contained a great many very unusual items and some stamps on cover that I believe were unique.

Since this collection was bought by another collector of Triangle stamps, with the intention of combining the two collections into one, I believe other similar specialists will be interested in knowing that the man who bought my collection will, after combining the two, have a very fine lot of duplicate material which he would like to trade with others.

He is Col. Henry H. Rogers, G2 Section, Hq 6th Army, Presidio, San Francisco, Calif. Col. Rogers will welcome correspondence with other Triangle collectors for the purpose of trading duplicates. I hope that those with whom I traded, and with whom I have corresponded in the past, will contact him.

past, will contact him.

Trouble With Dominican Republic Agency

I have had a great many letters from collectors and dealers who have been unable to get delivery of stamps or to get a refund on recent orders to this Agency. We have heard some reference to the fact that the management changed hands and that the new manager was unfriendthe management changed hands and that the new manager was unfriendly toward doing business with Americans. Such a letter is at hand from Mr. Homer Diman of the Universal Stamp Co. of Tampa, Fla. Mr. Diman has taken the matter up with Mr. Henry Hammond, Counselor for Economic Affairs, c/o American Embassy, Cudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic. If others who are still waiting for stamps or refund will write this man it can turn out that a number of complaints will bring about action that will clear up matters for everyone.

For Religion on Stamps Collectors

You who follow the topic of Religion on Stamps will want the lovely new set of six stamps that were issued recently by Haiti. This set is a memorial issue for Pope Pius XII. It is a very colorful and attractive set. There are three designs, one on each of the stamps for regular postage and the same subjects repeated on the three stamps for Air Mail.

Speaking of Stamp Thefts Again

Evidently the collectors and dealers as well as the Police of Oklahoma and Texas have little love for stamp thieves and get result where most others fail.

We have at hand clippings concerning a theft of stamps from a dealer in Tulsa, Okla. The theft was not near so large as the gentry usually make and amounted to only $1200. It is reported that the thief took the stamps to Mexico where he disposed of them. Both Oklahoma and Texas police got on the trail of this man and he was picked up and tried in Tulsa where he was given a three-year sentence by the local judge.

What a contrast to the way these boys are handled over in the eastern part of these United States.

More On The UN Precancel Counterfeits

Following the release of matter on the UN Precancels issued by the New England Chapter of the ASDA which was published in both Mekeel's and Stamp Wholesaler, Mr. Tvedt of the UN Postal Service has issued a reply which denies the story told in an article by Mr. Kehr a few years

Mr. Tvedt again states that there was but one original printing of these precancels and at the same time gives a list of the various mailings these precancels and at the same time gives a list of the various mailings on which these stamps were used.

We still believe that the way to track this matter down will be for all dealers who handled any of them to report to us the exact number they bought, from whom they brought them, and what they paid for them.

We believe that the result of such a report would be to trace all of the stamps to the one party who is suspected of putting them in the market and finally clearing up the matter. In fact we believe it an obligation that dealers do this as we believe dealers want to help keep the hobby clean.

Carl P. Rueth

Never have I heard so many complaints about catalog listings as about those given in the Scott Cata-logs for the past two years. It has, logs for the past two years. It has, in some quarters, been considered good clean sport to lambast Scott Publications for some of the glaring deficiencies in its reference volumes. Scott has earned its lumps—however, this corner has never seen fit to make a project of adding a few more here and there.

I do think it time that the firm I do think it time that the firm takes a searching look at its operations and its product, and do something to correct the various things for which it has been criticized. Some of them have to do with its choice of color designations; its reluctance to change a listing or information even when irrefutable evidence points to an error; and an unwillingness to include data of interest to collectors. to name a few. est to collectors, to name a few.

The biggest gripe, and in a way it is the smallest of small potatoes, is the Scott reluctance to be practical and foresighted about the numbering of issued stamps. Many of you know that the numbers for certain U. S. stamps in the 1959 Volume I, are not like those for the identical ones in the 1959 U.S. Specialized. The Liberty Series which should all be collected in one place is spread apart and causes hunting which is entirely unecessary.

One could say to a griper, "Well, if you don't like the Scott Catalog, get some other one."

It isn't that easy since the Scott books are an institution on which a great deal of the orderliness of stamp collecting in the United States depends. The merchandising and classification of stamps are almost exclusively based on its numbers of identification.

Scott Publications is going to have to get over its phlegmatic attitude, get in tune with the times, or suffer extinction. The public will only go along so far with an institution—when it stops being important or useful it is tossed to the wolves—more appropriately in this instance, to the silverfish.

Fortunately for collectors in the United States, they do have a second catalog on which to depend, the "American", concerned with U. S. issues, a product of Minkus Publications. Minkus also produces a two-volume world-wide set of catalogs, as well as some just announced sectional ones which deal exclusively with certain countries or areas of the world.

The American, while not nearly as specialized and handy a reference book as the Scott, has everything 95 per cent of those interested in United States issues want to know. It further has important information and ease of use which the older book never has had.

The Scott Catalogs are still the most important books available to us because the Scott numbers are used almost exclusively by collectors and dealers. I think it is that factor alone which is keeping them in use.

Unless Scott Publications starts getting on the ball, but quick and good, Minkus Publications is going to take over the catalog field in this country. It hasn't been too long ago that Scott albums were what most everyone used in which to mount stamps. That isn't so today simply because the firm did not care to, or was not in a position to, give good service in producing the supplements on a yearly basis, and revising when necessary. Minkus Publiing when necessary. Minkus Publications has gained the "lion's share" of the former Scott album trade by making desirable merchandise and having it ready when collectors want it.

Given the break of more lethargy on the part of Scotts, Minkus will put them out of the catalog business. Then some of the old-timers will rally around a table in a bistro somewhere and cry in their respective beers over the passing of an ancient institution.

ancient institution.

But it won't be a passing exactly

— it'll be suicide!

1. What objects, not counting the ribbon, are to be seen in the design of the Religious Freedom commem of 1957?

2. The first Champions of Liberty stamp pictured Ramon Magsaysay on the medal. The top half of the medal's inscription read, "1953 Ra-mon Magsaysay 1957". What did the bottom half read?

A book which does not tie in with A book which does not tie in with stamps directly, but which might be of interest to "philatelic railroaders" can be gotten from Washington. The title is "The First Quarter-century of Steam Locomotives in North America". It has 112 pages and is profusely illustrated.

It provides a complete catalog of the locomotive collection of the United States National Museum. Authored by the Curator of Land Transportation of the Museum, it describes and pictures relics and replicas of such historic old steam locomotives as the "Tom Thumb", "DeWitt Clinton", "John Bull" and others used during the period 1825-49. The story of these old iron-horses—who built them, when they were built, their specifications, and other interesting and historical facts—is given. There is also a supplemen-

There is also a supplementary section which briefly describes some of the other models involved in events in history of railroading or mark major steps in its progress. If this interests you address your order to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Govt. Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. I wonder how many of you get to see the various new slogan cancellations which the Post Office Department permits in various places around the nation. Here at the office we get to see a lot of them since our mail comes in from all over. Quite a few are attractive. We do publicize the post offices where slogans are in use, usually several weeks before their inaugural dates, depending always on the promptness with which the POD Information Service gets this data to use. I wonder how many of you get to

While there are slogans which have a fairly decent value, the majority have no notable worth. This is one of those offshoots of the parent phi-lately which falls in the "fun mostlately which falls in the "fun mostty" category, rather than something which would have some reasonable redeemable cash value after one is through with such a collection.

As in most all collecting, the pleasure comes in the pursuit, possession and the people one meets along the way.

the way.

The "wise ones" place the right edge of their stamps about two inchess in from the right edge of the envelope. This will many times get a "socked-on-the-nose" postmark on the stamp, and give a clear impression of the slogan on the envelope. Some use the postal card which is a cent cheaper in postage, and less costly than an envelope and stuffer.

Instead of keeping the entire item a section of the card or envelope approximately 4 inches wide, measured from the right, and 2 inches deep, measured from the top, is cut out. This saves bulk in the album while at the same time gives everything of importance pertinent to the slogan and postmark.

Collectors also have a catalog. It

Newark postponed the opening of a special window pending the results of a study to determine the needs for such a service. One window will be opened, and the hours of service will be adjusted according to the demand for this additional facility. The inauguration of the service at Pittsburgh was delayed somewhat pending receipt of an adequate supply of stamps, but operations actually began on April 20.

The 3c Oklahoma Statehood and Teachers of America commems of 1957 were removed from sale at the Philatelic Sales Agency in Washington, D. C., as of the close of business May 1. Removed at the same time were the 1c and 3c Presidential endwise coils of 1939.

No "Inverted Letters" On Canadian NATO 5c

Several hopeful collectors have re-orted "inverted 'AT' errors" on ported "inverted 'AT' errors" on their recent Canadian NATO 5c com-memoratives. When holding the stamps in position to read "NATO" at the left side, the same word was repeated at the right with the "AT" inverted, they proclaimed.

inverted, they proclaimed.

The error lay in the way they held the stamps — to read the right inscription properly, that side should be held upward. The fact is then evident, as explained in Linn's front page story of March 2, that "NATO" is "OTAN" when the full "North Atlantic Treaty Organization" title is translated into French and then reduced to the initials of the four principal words.

New Lincoln Cachet To Note "Lost Speech"

On May 29, a printed historical cachet will be issued honoring Abraham Lincoln's Historical "Lost Speech" made at Major's Hall in Bloomington, Ill. The cachet will picture Abe as in 1859 and the Hall as it appeared at that time. The ancient structure is now being torn down to make a downtown parking lot.

Lincoln stamps will be used for Lincoln stamps will be used for franking. Covers may be ordered at 15c each, three for 40c (coin—no stamps) from Carl E. Rhoads, 714 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill. Collectors may supply printed gummed or peelable labels if they desire.

Bahamas Centenary Set Uses Old Design

The special set of four values scheduled for June 10 release to note the centennial of the first Bahamian stamps utilizes the border design of the original 1859 one penny issue. In the new set the vignette of Queen Victoria is replaced by one of Queen Elizabeth II.

The vignette is in black in all four values; frames are in red, green, blue, and brown, respectively, on the 1, 2, 6, and 10d denominations. The design includes the caption "1859 Postal Centenary 1959". Waterlow & Sons. Ltd. printed the issue by the recess process on C. A. (block capitals) wmk paper.

The stamps will remain on sale for six months or until sold out should stock be exhausted earlier, according to the Crown Agents Representative, Washington, D. C.

Ecuador's "Blitzed Poets" Victims Of Nazi Luftwaffe

Dr. Roberto Levi-Castillo

They are just three 10c stamps and one 50c, with a total catalog rating of 45c mint, and hardly worth a second look—until that second look it taken. They are the "Blitzed Poets" survivors of the proposed 1942 set of ten (five regulars and five airmails) to pay tribute to Ecuador's poets Renigio Crespo-Toral and Alfredo Baquerizo-Moreno. The proceeds of the sales of these ten adhesives were to be used for public constructions to honor the poets.

The full editions were duly printed by De La Rue in London and delivered to dockside warehouses for forwarding as soon as possible to Ecuador by steamer. But that was the year of the "Battle of Britain", and the Nazi Luftwaffe hit the port before shipping space became available for such things as new stamps for a South American country. After the bombings, fire, fire fight seemelved well "roasted" within their sealed considered with the even copies with full gum show bad discoloration thereof or at the constructions.

ing and salvaging operations were finally completed, such of the stamps as remained were finally sent along to Ecuador. Totals received and duly placed on sale were:

400,000 10c green, showing Crespo-Toral;

200,000 10c green, Baquierizo-Mo-

40,000 50c brown, Crespo-Toral; and 500,000 10c dull violet airmails, also Crespo-Toral.

These are Scott's Nos. 404-5-6 and

These are Scott's Nos. 404-5-6 and C97, totaling 1,140,000 of the original 3,000,000 stamps. None of the 20c, 1 and 5 Sucres values survived the holocaust on Britain's waterfronts. All of these facts are included in official decrees of October 11, 1939 and April 17, 1942.

The "Blitzed Poets" as local lore calls these now ver; elusive stamps in mint condition, were rapidly sold out because at the time they were the only definitive stamps available. By the time philatelists had reconciled themselves to buying the badly incomplete issue—four of the proposed 10 items—all copies had been sold over the post office counproposed 10 items — all copies had been sold over the post office coun-full OG condition. It can only be conjectured that the bombing and firefighting ruptured may of the sealed zinc chests in which the mint sheets were stored, so that those which were not otherwise damaged were water soaked.

Still others were apparently well "roasted" within their sealed containers by the heat of nearby flames, so that even copies with full gum show bad discoloration thereof or at best some spotting. Full mint OG snow bad discoloration thereof or at best some spotting. Full mint OG copies as commonly accepted by the stamp trade practically do not exist. Such gum as is encountered is usually yellowish, with variations from reddish to almost red or red brown.

This, then is the story of just another low catalog but extremely scarce and hard to find set of stamps — and how it got that way, after all post office holdings had been sold out by the end of 1943.

LINN'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS

P. Fiorenzo Fulcini, writing in the May issue of "Il Bolletino Filatelico" puts forth what seems to be strong proof that the figure is that of a Roman matron and close friend of St. Francis, one Giacoma de' Set-tesoli, whom the saint called Gia-

Airlines And Philately; The Delta Story

Julius Weiss

(All Rights Reserved)

Sometime in June a great pioneer of the aviation world will receive the coveted Illini Achievement Award at the commencement exercises of the University of Illinois. This great man graduated from the University of Illinois in 1911, and his career spans the history of aviation from jennies to jets. We refer to C. E. Woolman, president of Delta Air Lines. Mr. Woolman built the nation's first aerial crop dusting concern into the sixth largest airline in these United States.

Collett Everman Woolman while attending the University of Illinois attended the world's first aviation meet at Rheims, France in 1910. Lat rriends created "Huff Daland Dusters", the world's first airplane crop dusting organization.

The group pioneered in various new techniques which proved a true weapon against the monsters in miniature which were feasting upon the cotton crops of the area. Quickly the new organization spread its operations into Mexico and South America. In fact, in 1926 the group did the first crop dusting in Peru.

On July 16, 1928 a Keystone plane piloted by Dan Tobin took Mr. Woolman of Huff Daland Dusters and a representative of the Ingersoll Rand representative of the Ingersoll Rand firm (which was also crop dusting in Peru) to the military airport of El Condor at Eloi Alfaro, near Guayaquil Ecuador. Soon an airmail contract was granted and they decided to start service between Ecua-dor and Peru. The Keystone flew from Lima to Guayaquil. The Huff Daland Dusters and Ingersoll Rand merged with the Grace Lines and made a new firm called Pan American Grace Peruvian Airways, later on to become Pan American Grace.

In 1928 the name was changed to Delta Air Service, Inc. Soon some 90-mile-per-hour Travelaires were in the air for Delta in the States. On June 1, 1929 the first domestic passenger service from Dallas via Shreveport and Monroe to Jackson, Miss. was extended along to Birmingham and Atlanta. That date was a great day for the Delta line. The concern's name was changed to

The concern's name was changed to Delta Air Corp. on December 31, 1930. The year 1934 brought an air-mail contract (CAM Route 24) from Charleston to Dallas via Atlanta. The ariline now began the use of trimotored Stinson planes which carried seven passengers at the speed of 100 miles per hour. The first airmail flight was July 4,

The Dominican Republic run was started January 10, 1953. Flight cover collectors have some of these C & S covers in their collections, but it must be remembered that this is part of the Delta history for as we mentioned previous C&S has merged with Delta.

We cannot leave this portion of We cannot leave this portion of Delta without mentioning Carleton Putnam, founder of C&S, who remained chairman of the board following the merger with Delta. This pilot, while going to law school, saw an airplane in a window. He purchased the plane, took flying lessons, and in 1933 organized Pacific Seaboard Lines, Inc. On April 1, 1955 Delta became the first airline to inaugurate intercontinental service with DC-7's, operating over its Chicago-New Orleans-Havana-Montego Bay-Caracas route. In 1958 the Civil Aeronautics Board through decisions in the Great Lakes Southeast Service and Lakes Southeast Service cases, approved a number of new services for Delta. On January 1, 1959 Delta went to Dayton, and on to Louisville, Columbus, Tampa and St. Petersburg-Clearwater.

The 1959 Delta fleet consists of DC-7's and 7B's, DC-6's, and Super Convairs including some C-47's and C-46 all-cargo transports. The line has an order for some $74,000,000 worth of jet craft which includes the 570mph Douglas DC-8's and the 615mph Convair 880. This line had been organized in 1933 as Pacific Seaboard Air Lines with flights between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

In 1936 Delta began using high speed Lockheed Electras which have been mentioned in our series of some other major lines. Later Delta progressed to DC-2's, 3's and 4's. Growth of the line continued with cities such as Fort Worth, Baton Rouge, Chicago, Charleston, and Minami all becoming landing ports for Delta's craft.

In keeping with giving stamp col-lectors in general and APS mem-bers in particular information about lectors in general and APS members in particular information about new issues and the side avenues which engross them, the "American Philatelist", monthly magazine of the American Philatelis Society will be in the April issue bring an article on Saclant of Nato.

Saclant means "Supreme Allied Command Atlantic Ocean" and of course readers know that NATO means "North Atlantic Treaty Organization". This is composed of 14 member countries around the North Atlantic which are trying to protect their way of life in a free world.

The author of the article is Rear Adm. Jesse G. Johnson, a long time friend of Adm. Jerauld Wright, Commander of Saclant. His article has to do with various cancellations used on Saclant mail. It will be very interesting to collectors who will in the future specialize in the various stamps issued for NATO.

Readers who are not members of the APS may get copies of the Readers who are not members of the APS may get copies of the "American Philatelist" from the State College office. Collectors will also receive the Philatelist if they join the Society. H. # Top Syrian Stamp Scandal Of '58 Came With Children's Day Overprint On 1957 Remainders

Bruce Conde

Continuing now the examination of the Damascus printed 1958 stamps for the Syrian Region of the United Arab Republic (UAR), two instalments of which appeared in Linn's of March 9 and April 6, we come now to the sixth item on the list. This is the hastily applied overprint on the remainders of the 1957 Children's Day set, for 1958 release.

Since this addition was made in the French language, we may suppose it was prepared some time ago, before the UAR directed both regions to imprint English as the "second Insurance of the recent (federal-inspired) clean - up in Syrian stamp issues. This in turn will account for its highly speculative character, when such creatures as Mr. "X" had a Roman holiday seizing control of and fixing the price of the issue, as they would like to do for every issue, in their insatiable greed to get rich quick.

The mechanics of this controlled set, including the fantastically unreasonable prices asked, have already been described in an earlier article in this paper. A description of the overprint, since it is not worth purchasing as an illustration at its inflated current market "value", is given below. With it is a cautionary note that it has been counterfeited and should not be purchased (if you must collect such issues) except from reliable deal-so, in spite of cooling relations with chased (if you must collect such issues) except from reliable dealers who can guarantee its authen-

All three values—12½ piasters olive green, 17½p. blue, and 20p. light brown of the charming and attractive 1957 Chlidren's Day set (showing a robust infant loping along and having a lot of fun at it) were overprinted in black:

"Al Impulsipat al Arabivat al-Mu-

"Al-Jumhuriyat al-Arabiyat al-Mu-"Al-Jumhuriyat al-Arabiyat al-Mutahidah" ("The United Arab Republic") in Arabic, across the child's breast; the Arabic figures of date, which read, from right to left: "6-10-1958" (October 6, 1958, the first day of issue and Children's Day) and "RAU" (the French-language abbreviation for UAR).

The date is printed across the baby's middle. "RAU", in very heavy black type, starts about at the shin of his uplifted right leg and ends on the thigh of the other

Only 8000 remainders were availonly 8000 remainders were available for overprinting and issue, but the counterfeiters laid hands on much larger unoverprinted stocks of the set in private hands to try to chisel on the Mr. "X" racket of astronomically high prices for the

VII: "Congratulations to Iraq" Was First Identical UAR Commem

The 500,000 copies of October 14th's "Celebrating the Republic of Iraq" commemorative were enough to stop the stamp speculators in Damascus, and, by contrast, to show the superiority of the Survey of Egypt's photogravure process over Syria's typographical media.

This 12½p, red stamp has already been written up in detail in this paper, including its background information, so that a brief review of the design will suffice for this series.

A hand, breaking chains and holding the Torch of Liberty, with the flag of Iraq in the background makes up the design. On it are superimposed the date of the Iraqi revolution (July 14, 1958), the com-The 500,000 copies of October 14th's

It was very popular in both regions and with the Iraqis themselves. Also, in spite of cooling relations with the UAR as the result of the fall from grace of pro-UAR leader Col. Abdul Salem Aref and the increase in leftist influence in Premier General Abdul Karim Qassim's cabinet, the Iraqi Republic announced that its stamps would henceforth be printed by the Survey Department in Cairo instead of in England.

The first of these sets is that in honor of the new Arab League Headquarters Bldg., which has already been prepared and sent from Cairo to Baghdad.

As the first identical UAR com-

As the first identical UAR com-As the first identical UAR commemorative for both regions (save for piaster instead of mils currency) without regional designations, this stamp made postal history. It was the forerunner of complete postal unification including currency, in the near future, for definitives as well as commemoratives. (It will be remembered that the original, "unity" issue bore the old country names of Egypt and Syria in addition to the new "UAR" caption).

75,000 sets of a two-value airmail commemorative issue in the low face of 60p. (15c U. S.) to honor Aleppo's annual Cotton Fair. The adhesives are identical in design and almost in color. Only the coloring and design on the three bolts of cotton cloth which are being unwound across the top and left center of the stamp are different.

To the right, under the first bolt of cloth, are seen the walls and towers of the Gate House of the Aleppo Citadel, the city's most famous landmark. These were built during the Crusades by King az-Zahir al-Ghazi the son of the famous Sultan of Islam, Saladin (Salah ud-Din al-Ayyubi).

Beneath the bolts of cloth are seen cotton pods in bloom, resting on a bottom panel containing the commemorative inscription in English, "Festival of the Cotton, 5-11 October, 1953", and the English and Arabic expressions of value.

The 35p. is in a slightly darker brown. The bolts of cotton cloth are colored in orange, red and carmine, from right to left, respectively, instead of in shades of yellow. Otherwise both stamps are identical, save for the value.

The country name is spelled out in Arabic across the top of the stamp, but this is difficult to see on the 35p. copy. Beneath is the English abbreviation "UAR", on top of a tiny Arabic text and date line commemorating the occasion. The Arabic airmail inscription is also in tiny letters above the castle Gate House and, vertically, in English, on the left bolt of cloth.

ABCD COMPANY

A MERE CENTURY AGO the first railroad was built to link Patos and Campina Grande, Brazil. To mark the centenary of this event, Brazil issued a 2.50 Cruzeiro reddish brown stamp April 24. The design shows a map of the original line and a down-the-track view of a modern railroad roadbed. A suitable first day cancellation was used, and attractive first day covers were available, such as this one sent by Prof. Manoel F. da Motta, Largo do Machado 11, Catete, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

bers printed were entirely adequate (500,000 sets) and there was no monkey business in connection with this popular topical emission.

The design is uniform for the two low face values (20p. about 5c U.S.). Colors are green for the 7½p. and olive green for the 12½p.

Featured are two happy Syrian children, a boy and a girl, admiring a model glider, which the boy holds in his hand. Behind them a real glider, with an occupant, is in flight. The country name and "UAR" are at the top. All other inscriptions are at the bottom, including values and the bilingual designation "Gliding Festival".

Airmail collectors should not pass up this set because the engraver forgot to include the English word "Airmail" in the design, for directly beneath the model glider is the boy's hand is the Arabic word "Jawwi", meaning "Air (mail)".

X: Fruit and Grain on U. N. Set

At wo-value set, one postage and the other airmail, was issued December 10, in honor of the FAO's Near East Regional Conference in Damascus, in the quantity of 600,000 copies of each stamp. Values were 12½p. dull green for regular postage and 17½p. violet, airmail. To symbolize the UN body's meeting in the historic city of Damascus, perhaps the oldest continually-inhabited capital city in the world, going back some 5000 years and more, the designers chose a symbolic composite landscape typical of both Damascus and the whole Syrian countryside.

In the center is an ancient mosque with two minarets, similar to the Tekiye of Sulaiman the Magnificent in Damascus. It is surrounded by olive groves—the most ancient economic basis of Syrian agriculture.

Bare hilltops, each crowned by a ruin, are in the background, and in the foreground are gourds or melons in a field. Flanking the scene on the right and left, respectively, are a fruit tree in bearing and a sheaf of wheat.

the foreground of the olive orchard is entirely taken up with the long commemorative texts in Arabic and English: "IV N. E. Reg. Conference, Damascus, 10-20 Dec., 1958"; Strangely enough, no mention is made of the UN's FAO (Food and Agricultural Organization), whose Fourth NE Regional Conference it was!

Values flank the commemorative texts. The postage or airmail inscriptions are arranged vertically in English to the right of the fruit tree. On the low value the Arabic word "Postage" appears to the right of the gourds or melons, with the designer's name (Kurche) on the left.

of the UAR's present issues, are in the new "borderless" style.

XI: Human Rights Day Features Airmail Pair

The last of the Syrian Region's 1958 commemoratives which saw the end of the Republic of Syria's separate stamp issues and the gradual coordination of UAR issues with Egypt was an airmail pair in honor of the United Nations' Human Rights Day 10th Anniversary celebration.

The two stamps are identical save for color and value. They show the UN emblem in the center, with a scroll superimposed, on which is inscribed the first phrase of the Rights of Man in Arabic. Below the scroll are the bilingual commemorative dates, 1948-1958. A Syrian mother, with her child, is to lower right, symbolizing the way common people everywhere look up to the Declaration of Human Rights.

Arabic.

Figures of value are very large, and occupying the lower left of the design. Beneath them is the Arabic inscription in small letters, "Barid Jawwi", meaning "Airmail". The English equivalent is nowhere to be found on the stamps and this pair may be passed up by airmail collectors unaware of its airmail status.

The stamps are in the new "borderless" style, the 35p. in pale blue, the 45p. in brown.

XII: Post Day Tricolor Displays UAR Postal Badge ...

The January 2 "Post Day" stamp, in red, green, black and white, with which the Syrian Region's second year as a stamp-issuing entity of the UAR began, has already been written up in a previous Linn's ar-

tree. On the low value the Arabic word "Postage" appears to the right of the gourds or melons, with the designer's name (Kurche) on the left.

The airmail rendering in Arabic requires two words, so these flank the gourds or melons on the 17½p. value. Both of these, like almost all

Ryukyus Rate Hike May Mean New Issue

According to an item in the Okinawa "Morning Star" of April 29, submitted by Capt. R. W. Buchanan who is stationed in the Ryukyus, a general change in the rates of foreign mail originating in the Islands was instituted May 5.

was instituted May 5.

Airmail going to U. S., Hawaii,
Alaska, Canada, and Asia Minor (Turkey), is now 35c, an increase of 6c over the former rates.

Jojin Tomiyama, chief of the Ryukyu government postal service sec-tion explained that the revision has been necessitated by the new inter-national postal agreement conclud-ed at Ottawa, Canada, in October

With the revision, all the previously existing charges on postal matter were adjusted adequately in the light of the universal postal agreement, he said.

The air-letter rate has eased upward 2c to 15c, according to Capt. Buchanan, but he did not know at the time of writing whether present 13c overprinted air-letter forms were to be further overprinted to the new

Federation of Malaya - Continrederation of Malaya — Contin-uing now the background story of Malayan philately begun in the April 6 and 20 issues of Linn's, we note that since its emergence as an independent country the Federation of Malaya has entered cautiously into the field of commemorative issues.

Malaya has entered cautiously into the field of commemorative issues. The celebration of Independence on August 31, 1957 was marked by the issue of a 10c item. It portrays the Prime Minister of the Federation, Tunku Abdul Rahman, speaking into a microphone, while people of the various racial groups who make up the nation welcome the Ship of State which brings Independence.

To mark the 14th session of the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East held at Kuala Lampur in March 1938, two stamps, of 12c and 30c denominations, were issued. They have as their subject the symbol of the United Nations. In honor of the first Anniversary of Independence, a set of two values was released August 31, 1958. The 10c shows the Merdeka (Independence) Stadium at Kuala Lumpur, under the flag of the Federation. The 30c bears the portrait of the Yang di-Pertuan Agong, with the symbols of power, two maces and a kris. This was the first of the Federation's issues to be printed by the photogravure process.

The Rights of Man and the Installation of the Sultan of Kedah issues have previously been covered in detail, earlier this year.

Collecting Malayan Stamps—There is little doubt that anyone interested in Malayan stamps will wish to acquire the full range of Singapore pictorials, but 125 different stamps in the Federation definitive range may be somewhat daunting for the average collector. The four "national" denominations are easy, but what about the state stamps?

what about the state stamps?
Each of the eleven states has its own definitive set. Consisting of eleven stamps, each set has a face of $9 Malayan, or about $3 U.S. Thus the face value of the entire country amounts to approximately $33. This sum may pose no particular prob-lem for some collectors, but to oth-ers it represents quite a few cigar-

The answer might be to concen-rate on one or more of the states. Whichever solution the collector Whichever solution the collector adopts, there is one point which might be borne in mind: the volume of sales of stamps for postage purposes varies greatly from state to state, according to population and the influence of commerce and industry. Perak and Selangor adhesives will be easier to find in used condition whereas used Perlis stamps are comparatively rare.

For the collector interested in mint stamps there is, of course, no similar condition of scarcity. Malayan mint stamps can be obtained from Postal Headquarters in Kuala Lumpur, at face value. Dealers can get them from the same source or from the Stamp Bureau of the Crown Agents for Overseas Governments

Agents for Overseas Governments and Administrations in London or Washington, D. C. It is hoped the Malayan Study

Group now being formed will shortly be in position to facilitate collecting these interesting stamps through correspondence with collectors in Malaya, exchanges, approvals, and packets.

Every courtesy has been extended by the Embassy of Malaya in Washington and by the Postmaster-General in Kuala Lumpur to help make the Study Group a success. Information bulletins as well as stamp and general news releases have been forthcoming to assist in disseminating knowledge and understanding of this fascinating freedom loving nation. loving nation.

The next column devoted to Malayan postal affairs will deal with the sometimes confusing status of the various states before the estab-lishment of the Federation.

A Word To The Wise - A bit of interesting information has been reinteresting information has been received from our British correspondent, the editor of the Commonwealth Catalogues concerning Sudan. Recently a block of four of the current 10p. was discovered with with the official "S.G." overprinted in black instead of red (Scott No. 058, Minkus No. 241). This is the only high value to be overprinted in red, probably due to the fact that its centur is black.

Inquiries were made of the Sudan GPO who replied that the black overprint was employed inadvertently, but that they have decided to use them nevertheless. Existing stocks of the red overprint cannot be plentiful and will soon be obsolete. Collectors are cautioned to be careful if this stamp is offered at a premium this stamp is offered at a premium price, along with the story that only a few sheets exist. The plack over-print will be appearing in greater quantities as the red overprint is exhausted.

"Wandering Eagle" On Overprinted Envelope

Collectors of oddities in United States postal paper have reported various departures from the normal in the positioning of the 1c and 2c revaluation imprints on 2c and 3c stamped envelopes.

A recent example submitted by John E. van der Linden, Northwood, Iowa shows a smear of green ink on the end of the envelope beside the stamp. The 1c-and-eagle green imprint itself is two inches lower than normal, on the trans-parent window surface. Such items are interesting oddities, but are not "rarities".

SPA 65th Convention Plans Taking Shape

Plans Taking Shape
"Sixty-five may be retirement age for most folks, but for the Society of Philatelic Americans it's the age at which to look even further into the future." With that remark, SPA president Larry Edmunds recently struck the keynote for the Society's 65th annual convention and exhibition to be held in Cincinnati, Ohio August 13-16.
The occasion will also mark the 25th anniversary of the Philatelic Society of Cincinnati which will host the national event at the Hotel Sinton in downtown Cincinnati. A six-point program for service to philately in general and SPA-ers in particular will be detailed during the convention.

A third cover with both stamps, commemorating the Royal Visit and the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway by Queen Elizabeth and President Dwight D. Eisenhower, will be canceled in St. Lambert, Quebec, where the opening ceremonies will take place.

The set of three covers will sell for $1 cash or money order, and will be mailed unaddressed under separate cover. Proceeds from the sale of covers will be used for tuberculous veterans welfare.

First Derby Stamp Fair In Birmingham May 28

In Birmingham May 28

The first Derby Stamp Fair will be held May 28 from 6 to 10 p.m. by the Derby Junior High School Stamp Club, Birmingham, Mich. The event will be staged at the school.

The group expects a 50-75 frames of stamps and a bourse of about six dealers. A nominal admission charge of 15c is asked, with most of the proceeds going toward the purchase of philatelic literature for the school library.

unused stamps and applied light postmarks to them, voiding any postmarks to them, voiding any postal value.

These were sold to wholesalers and jobbers at a price which was a little higher than printing costs. A Liberian set with a face value of $10.33, for example, was sold for 12c a set in lots of 1000 or more.

Offering them at 35c, dealers made a profit and enabled many a youngster with limited budget to add 13 colorful stamps with weird Afri.

New Danger — Today canceled-to-order specimens have a more nefarious purpose. The Moscow masterminds have long used stamp designs as ministrus presents to grant signs as miniature posters to propa-gandize the party line. They know that if they can get supplies into the albums of collectors they may strengthen their pitch. They also know that while the collecting avoca-tion is growing in many areas of tion is growing in many areas of Asia and Africa, hobbyists there just can't afford to buy many stamps at the prevalent market price.

Any common commemorative stamps of the United States in used condition sell for the equivalent of about 3c apiece in India. That automatically puts them beyond the reach of most philatelic fans.

To popularize their own, the US-SR and satellites make a practice of sending huge quantities of stamps to established dealers at extremely low "token" prices — in some nations they are distributed to the trade at no cost at all.

to token prices—In some nations they are distributed to the trade at no cost at all.

Since this scheme enables dealers to sell them in large sets and packets at ridiculously low prices, thousands of Asiatic and African tyros own chiefly stamps from communist areas and are exposed to the propaganda their designs offer.

Canceled-to-order specimens may be identified without difficulty—even if someone has removed the gum. They usually have a light postmark only in a single corner because of the obliteration process:
a single handstamp is applied to the joint between a block of four on a sheet. They are produced and sold in complete sets, so all stamps in it have the same postmark in the same position. This would be impossible in a set of stamps that actually had been used postally. en used postally.

Stamps For Ducks Finance Ducks For Dinners

Stanley A. Sprecker

Reprinted from "The Conservation Volunteer" Official Bulletin, Minnesota Department of Conservation

As he grubbed away at the seemingly endless wilderness, the pioneer of 1858 probably took for granted the flight of ducks and geese as they crossed the Minnesota skies each autumn and spring. Yet he, like modern man, must have paused from his drudgery to look up in awe and envy at the effortless flight of the countless migrating waterfowl

More than likely he took time to augment his meat supply with a few easy shots. Today the modern agriculturalist, though on fewer occasions, can still pause to enjoy similar sights, if the noise and din from his Diesel tractor pulling superior ditching tools are not too deafening and distracting.

As late as the turn of the century, only a few persons were concerned about the future of the bird and animal life that was fast disappearing from the North American continent. Such conservation-pioneers as "Ted-dy" Roosevelt provided protection as early as 1903, when Pelican Is-land off the Florida coast was set aside as a bird refuge-rookery.

Not until 1924, however, did Congress authorize the purchase of bottom lands along the upper Mississiptom lands along the upper Mississippi River to serve as waterfowl refuges in this part of the country. Other waterfowl havens were established in 1908-1930 in southern Oregon and northern California (Malheur and Klamath).

In 1929 the Norbeck-Andresen Migratory Bird Conservation Act reflected the public interest in waterfowl conservation. The scope of the problem was such that single states could not adequately cope with it alone. with it alone.

The problem, too, was beyond such private organizations as the American Ornithologists' Union, the Boone and Crockett Clubs, and the National Audubon Society. Action by the Federal Government became imperative perative.

The Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act

Waterfowl populations had fallen to an all-time low during the early thirties. During that period the great drought, coupled with over-shooting, made the plight of the American waterfowl more desperate even than that of the midwestern farmer plagued with dust storms and the depression As "Ding" Darling not. depression. As "Ding" Darling, not-ed conservationist and artist of the first "duck stamps", put it so ably in his "Story of the Wildlife Refuge Program":

Program":

"... a succession of dry summers with searing winds, which made the Dust Bowl famous, blew the wild duck population of North America to an all time low. . By mid-July the brazer, sky over the expanses of dried up sloughs and marshes was empty of wings.

"The summer broods of ducklings had perished and bereft parent stock already reduced . . faced a fall journey southward along shrunken watercourses lined with hunters armed with automatic and repeater shotguns, a twenty-bird bag limit, baited blinds and little if any law enforcement of the over-liberal hunting regulations."

Pressure from conservation-minded citizens, including sportsmen, hunters, and gunners, was strong that something might be done before the "duckless America" envisioned by Aldo Leopold became a reality. The aroused hunting public was instrumental in getting the Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act passed by Congress March 16, 1934.

It had been prefaced in 1929 by the Migratory Bird Conservation Act, which had provided for appropriations for the purchase and maintenance of areas for migratory waterfowl refuges. However, during the depression years adequate funds for appropriation were not available. There was a general feeling that sportmen themselves should pay the bill.

pay the bill.

The 1934 MBHS Act was helped very considerably by Senator Norbeck's rider shunting $6 million of unexpended relief funds to the emergency duck rescue program. The Act provides that all migratory was unexpended relief funds to the emergency duck rescue program. The Act provides that all migratory waterfowl hunters must buy the stamp popularly known as the "duck stamp". The Act requires that 90 per cent of stamp sales should be used for the "location, ascertainment, acquisition, administration, maintenance, and development of suitable areas for inviolate migratory bird sanctuaries." The remaining 10 per cent was set aside for printing and distributing these stamps and for enforcement of the law.

The Act has been changed by two amendments. In August 1949 the $1 stamp became a $2 stamp. In October 1951 the original 90-10 division was changed so that 10 per cent of the revenues was increased to 15 per cent as the need for more rigid law enforcement became apparent.

enforcement became apparent.
As of June 30, 1957, the receipts from duck stamp sales have totaled over $54 million.

It is but natural that the buyer of a hunting permit be pleased when the tangible evidence of his purchase is more than a piece of paper full of fine print. In the case of "duck stamps" the purchaser is indeed well rewarded. All 25 stamps have been works of art, both literally and figuratively speaking. The y are the reproductions of sketches, paintings, and etchings by wildlife artists who annually compete for the distinction of having their handiwork used on the hunting stamps.

National Park Service before World

National Park Service before World War II, are sought by collectors.
The MBH stamps fall into two major groups: the first fifteen were $1 stamps; the stamps since the 1949-50 issue sell for $2. (A move to make the cost $3 is under serious consideration, but the current 1958-59 stamp still sells at $2).

Old mint copies demand several

Old mint copies demand several times the original price from stamp collectors, and even used stamps of early issues in good condition cost more than the original price.

The stamps go on sale July 1 of each year; two exceptions were the first issue, which was not sold until August 25, 1934, and the 1949-50 stamp, which was first sold on September 1, 1949. The first five stamps read "U. S. Department of Agriculture", whereas all later stamps bear the U. S. Department of the Interior designation.

It was in 1940 that the Bureau of

It was in 1940 that the Bureau of Biological Survey was transferred from the USDA to the Department of the Interior and merged with the Bureau of Fisheries to form the Fish and Wildlife Service. whithe service, has control of the expenditures of the duck stamp revenues.

But it is the Post Office Department which is responsible for the distribution, selling and accounting of sales, as well as engraving, printing, and issuing the "duck stamps". The names of various waterfowl appear on the face of the MBH stamps issued since 1952-53. All the stamps bear the words, "Void after June 30, 19—". Beginning with the 13th stamp, 1946-57, the reverse side of the stamp has borne the warning that "It is unlawful to hunt waterfowl unless you sign your name in ink on the face of this stamp."

Before World War II Minnesota ranked first in the nation in sales of duck stamps; thereafter, California took the lead. Since 1953, the sales in Minnesota have declined; Minnesota have declined; Minnesota the pagence the headment wind reality and the stamps that the property has the sales in the nation of the sales in Minnesota have declined; Minnesota heaven the sales in the nation of the sales in the pagence the headment the sales in the sales i

Benefits from Stamp Sales

The sportsman who has bought his "duck stamp" for two decades and longer has reason to raise the question, "What, besides the stamps, have we to show for all these revenues collected?" Over $6 million of duck stamp funds have been spent in the protection of the waterfowl-birds, ie., for the enforcement of Federal laws.

Waterfowl refuge development and maintenance have been even more important. More than $20 mil-lion of duck stamp revenues have been spent to develop national waterfowl refuges.

In 1934 the Wildlife Service had

41 refuges for waterfowl, totalling 911,039 acres. Two decades later in 1953 more than 200 refuges were maintained, protecting an acreage exceeding three million acres. (3,-

Another service from duck stamp sales of benefit to the sportsman is waterfowl investigation and research. This includes census-taking of waterfowl.

This is an involved and costly undertaking beyond the scope of any single state which helps provide a more reliable answer to the real question uppermost in the hunter's mind: "are there more ducks and geese?"

mind: "are there more ducks and geese?"

It will be generally conceded that a low point in waterfowl populations was reached during the dry thirties; also that during the past 25 years there has been a general increase. How much of an increase per hunter, in what species, and in what areas, is not as easily ascertained. Whether the increase has been by man's efforts alone is also not so definitely determined. Even before man meddled, waterfowl populations were not static.

A high of over 100 million ducks and geese in 1943 (some give the figure 120 to 130 million) has been estimated, with a drop to almost half by 1947 (47 million). Since 1950 there has been some increase. World War II helped the waterfowl population with a change in target and shortage of ammunition. The return of the serviceman made for an increase in the army of hunters.

Ducks Unlimited, an aggressive non-governmental organization which has approached the waterfowl problem north of the States with a "duck factory" idea points out that the 450,000 hunters in 1935 increased to 2,300,000 in 1956 — a 500 per cent increase. DU holds that the increase in waterfowl during the same period was 300 per cent, their estimate of the 1935 propulation of ducks and geese being 37 million.

The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife (USDI) indicates in a report released February 26, 1958 that, counting all waterfowl wintering in the Mississippi flyaway (Minnesota south to the Gulf) the total as of January 13-23 was 8 per cent below 1957 but 24 per cent above an 8-year average (1950-57). Geese were 2 per cent above 1957 but 6 per cent over the 8-year figure, whereas d u c k s were 11 per cent below 1950-57 average. The number of teal, mallards, baldnates gadwalls and shovellers per cent above the 1950-57 average. The number of teal, mallards, baldpates, gadwalls, and shovellers was good, but the status of the goldeneye, ringneck, canvasback, and wood duck needs watching.

The importance of waterfowl habitat in determining the distribution of the birds was emphasized in the report, which concluded with "good habitat and healthy waterfowl popuhabitat and healthy waterfowl populations go hand in hand." Minnesota has been aware of the importance of wetlands with a program for their preservation several years.

Minnesota Wetlands Stamp

Along with Wisconsin, Minnesota was one of the first states to elimin-ate incentive payments for swamp drainage under the Agricultural Conservation Program, as the need for er jet plane.

The first four "Duck Stamps", 1934-37, established a style which has been maintained with success and satisfaction to date.

wetlands preservation has long been recognized. To furnish much needed additional revenue, Minnesota hunters and sportsmen now pay an additional $1 surcharge on their hunting licenses, the revenue being intended for "the acquisition a n d development of wildlife lands."

The Wetlands Bill became effective April 25, 1957. At that time the 1957 small game hunting license had already been printed, and a number already been printed, and a number of them sold. To conform with the legislative requirement, each holder of such a license was required to present his license to the County Auditor and purchase the "Wetlands Stamp." Stamp

This stamp was attached to the license. The 1958 license has the surcharge printed on the license proper; consequently, there will be no 1958 wetlands stamp.
Only hunters, those purchasing the hunting license, were to have the 1957 stamp. However, some collectors unknowingly acted contrary to regulations by purchasing not only one but often several copies of the wetland stamp without owning a hunting license. The question arises: why limit sale of this stamp when the purpose is to raise money and save a substantial segment of Minesota's superlative water heritage. nesota's superlative water heritage which is being dissipated at an alarming rate through agricultural drainage?

The Current MBH Stamp

Six of the "duck stamps" in the series of 25 show other waterfowl than ducks. The current 1958-59 stamp is among those picturing geese, and is the first of the MBH Stamps to be a "repeat"; it depicts the Canada Goose, as did the third stamp, 1936-37.

Minnesotans should be particularly record, as the current stamp shows

Minnesotans should be particularly proud, as the current stamp shows a genuine Minnesota scene and is the work of Les Kouba, well known wildlife artist of Minneapolis.

The story behind the stamp is that it was done on the spur of the moment — in less than three hours. Artist Kouba got his award-winning design mailed in just in time for the November 1, 1957 deadline. It was chosen from 96 entries and, as Mr. Kouba put it, "it is very satisfying to have your sketch reproduced over two million times."

Thus all can continue to lift their eyes to the sky each spring and fall as migrating ducks and geese "vee" their way up and down the Mississippi flyway — a sight more stimulating than is today's white streak of the faster and noisier jet plane.

Dear Mr. Rueth:

I'm writing this note as a sort of open letter to Mr. M. S. Brainard, in reference, particularly, to his article in Linn's of April 13, entitled "On Culling Philatelic Chaff from the Wheat". I've read Mr. Brainard's articles before, in various publications, and always enjoy them. However, I do object strongly to this one.

one.
Mr. Brainard, in his article, set Mr. Brainard, in his article, set himself up as an advisor to beginning a n d uniformed collectors. "Collect", he says, "only collectible items". But what is the standard? Does the existence of straight edge on a 50c Parcel Post make it uncollectable? Why?

Isn't the straight edge actually a sign that it is scarcer than those perforated on all sides, since there are usually fewer SE's in a sheet than "good" stamps? Why perfins? Isn't it true that some perfins are actually worth more than the basic stamp?

And why not precancels, while he

And why not precancels, while he is at it? Wasn't there a time when informed collectors refused to have a precancel in their collections? Ah, but times have changed, and now Mr. Brainard doesn't mention these "non-collectibles", in that part of his article.

When the poor kids who are to inherit this depleted collection attempt to replace that 50c Parcel Post with a "collectible" copy, they'll find themselves out of pocket money for some time.

I ask — what's wrong with a slightly damaged copy of a scarce stamp until a better one comes along? Of course it isn't worth as much, in cash, as the superb copy, but are these kids investing toward an early retirement or are they colan early retirement, or are they col-

At what point in the estimate of stamp centering does a stamp change its status from a poorly centered collectible copy to an uncollectible one? The same could be asked regarding heaviness of cancelle. ed regarding heaviness of cancellaed regarding heaviness of cancellation.

Carrying his theory only a step farther, how long will it be before (in view of the ridiculous trend toward perfection that is demanded) a stamp that is not mathematically centered with original gum will be considered uncollectible?

In conclusion, I feel that Mr. Brainard has a perfect right to collect as he chooses. But he is betraying the confidence placed in him when tries to convince others that his way is the only right way. Let him advise the beginner as to the effect of condition on value so that the beginner will not be misled into paying more for an item that it is really worth on the market. But to say flatly that these more or less faulty items are "not collectible" and must be destroyed — that, I feel, is going too far.

Sincerely, (Signed) L. J. Karsevan Petaluma, Calif.

Comment George Saint A Successful Show

United Kingdom

A Successful Snow

I think most people were very satisfied with the results of "STAM-PEX 1959", Britain's national stamp exhibition which ran for eight days between March 13 and 21. Certainly standholders reported a satisfactory volume of business, and as for the exhibits, they were regarded as being on a higher level of quality than for some years past. This is all very satisfactory, but where does it get you in the end?

Well. in its own relatively quiet satisfactory, but where does it get you in the end?

Well, in its own relatively quiet way and working on a restricted budget, STAMPEX each year continues to provide the British press and therefore its readers with a good deal of stamp news. For the first three months on any year, the reader of Britain's newspapers and periodicals is made particularly "stamp conscious", inasfar as he is ever conscious of anything except next week's football match!

Let me make no bones about it: the zero support which British Post Office official circles give to the exhibition (and indeed to philately in general) with the exception of the special postmark which is charged to the organizers, does not make things easy. It may surprise U. S. readers to know that in spite of concentrated efforts, no British Postmaster has yet opened the exhibition in its seven-years' run, nor has the British Post Office ever shown a single piece from its official archives. shown a single piece from its offi-cial archives.

Cial archives.

Officaldom in London appears to think that such items should be rereserved solely for the International exhibitions, held principally abroad, with the result that the British collector sees his own post office's material on the average once every ten years. Indeed, no one has yet ever seen any part of the UPU coltion, which must be kept somewhere in London, but is perhaps quietly mouldering in a damp cellar.

So in spite of official negativism (ought one to be thankful that the GPO did not actually hinder the show?) the exhibition flourishes. I understand that attendances are again up by 10 per cent, but compared with New York figures, that's still not much. The average attendance is about 10,000 visitors.

We must remember, however, that even the much vaunted 1950 International Show failed to attract more than about 18,000 people through its gates, and that in 1960 it is not expected that more than about 20,000 visitors will visit London's Festival Hall.

Foreign Stands Attract

As usual one of the great attractions was the subsidiary hall, where the governments were accommodated. The exhibitors included a fair selection of the stamp-issuing countries. Next to London's GPO (a service facility not an exhibit) ing countries. Next to London's GPO (a service facility, not an exhibit!) were Liechtenstein and the Soviet Union, followed by Czechoslovakia, China, Poland, Monaco, Malaya, Ghana, Indonesia, and the Dominican Republic.

vakia, China, Poland, Monaco, Malaya, Ghana, Indonesia, and the Dominican Republic.

In the main body of the Hall was the United Nations stand, where a staff was busy most of the time canceling the special miniature sheet souvenirs, and the Israel Post Office (represented by one of the London traders). The remaining 40 stands were taken up by traders of all denominations, with stocks ranging from classics to new issues, from postal history to thematics.

Nor were these the only points of interest, admittedly though they provided the chief reason for many of the visitors' attendance. The STAM-PEX Trophy Competition again attracted some scores of entries from philateic societies all over the United Kingdom. Only about 30 of them could be shown, owing to limitations of frame space.

These were however of unusually high quality, and the trophy winning award was agreed upon as being a very fair winner. It comprised nine sheets displaying the several known variants of the Maltese Cross cancels with all the rarities and color errors.

sheets displaying the several known variants of the Maltese Cross cantage of the with all the rarities and color errors.

The Sultan Disposes

One of the exhibiting governments was that of Malaya, but in spite of Francis J. McCall's helpful notes in the April 6 issue of Linn's there were still one or two novelties which are topical. For instance, many collector unwillingness of the State of Johore to join in the general series of pictorial stamps.

The answer lies personally with sultan, an autocrat of the old school, who whilst he is not averse to issuing special stamps, prefers to have his own stamps or none at all. Examps in the Malayan stand were the original stampsized drawings with proposed portraits of the rulers for every State in the Federation.

The Johore issue was included with a full-face portrait of the Sultan, similar to the 8c definitive of 1940.

This stamp, I am informed, was to be the forerunner of an engraved series of large size definitives to replace the ordinary key types which until 1940 had remained unchanged in design from 1904. However, the war interrupted these plans and with the resumption of normal conditions in 1949 Johore was issued with the Malayan portrait key type which it has since used.

Obviously His Highness did not feel disposed to have himself displaced as the sole and dominating feature and relegated to a small picture in the corner of a pictorial design. So he vetoed the pictorials for Johore, and whatever his successor's plans may be, they will obviously not be replaced until Sir Ibrahim has passed to his ancestors.

The present Sultan has been on

The present Sultan has been on the stamps of his State since he himself succeeded to the Sultanate in 1896, when his father's portrait designs were overprinted with the word "KEMAHKOTAAN" (Coronafion) At present however He High. 1896, when his father's portion with the signs were overprinted with the signs were overprinted with the word "KEMAHKOTAAN" (Coronation). I understand that he showed his I understand that he showed his disapproval of the whole idea by a very simple device. All the Malayan Sultans were photographed in uniform poses to provide the portrait base for the pictorial issues. Sir Ibrahim did not choose to be so pictured, and consequently the stamps for Johore never got beyond the trial drawing stage. the trial drawing stage.

Semi Or Postal?

Malta's annual three stamps noting the award of the George Cross in 1942 have puzzled me for some time. This is not because of their designs which are a refreshing departure from the normal photo-montage, but rather as to the purpose of recalling Malta's admittedly heroic role in the last War at annual intervals.

role in the last War at annual intervals.

The present political sculduggery whereby constitutional government has been boycotted by the Maltese and the Governor is obliged to exercise personal rule does not seem to extend to a boycott of funds to be derived from philatelists, principally those of Great Britain.

An explanatory note in the latest Crown Agents' Bulletin, however, makes it clear that these stamps are issued as a fund-raising device. The proceeds of their sale (presumably after covering costs of printing and distribution) are devoted to the relief of war victims and their dependent.

after covering costs of printing and distribution) are devoted to the relief of war victims and their dependents. This explains, of course, why Malta keeps these stamps on sale for an only one week. The period is sufficient to preserve the legal fiction of postal requirements, and yet not long enough for the postal services rendered to make any notable into the charitable revenues. Numbers sold of the 1957 and 1958 series have not been published, but if we assume half of million sets to have been bought, and approximately 300,000 of these to have been put away without the necessity for postal service, we arrive at the satisfactory net profit of approximately $60,000. The stamps themselves are very attractive items and are this year for the first time printed in three colors.

this year for the first time printed in three colors.

The stamps are one of a novel class of issues which might best be described as "concealed semipostals". For instance, Malta's postal legislation, based on British law, does not permit the addition of a surcharge for charitable reasons. One presumes however that the rules of the Maltese posts provide for no bar to the distribution of part of the postal revenues (on a voluntary basis?) towards the dependents of war victims. And if that amount happens to be equal to the sales proceeds of the George Cross stamps, who is to raise any queries on so laudable an action?

Without research I cannot recall Without research I cannot recall other similar stamps which raise specific notation in the inscription or addition to the value. It would require extensive research to document such items and one is left with the question — "Does it really matter?"

The edition of 1,500,000 is one of several philatelic tributes various nations have paid the German naturalist and explorer who included Ecuador in his travels of a century and a half ago. # Similar Names Cause Mail Delay noted in a recent interview.

Tea, Coffee, Creamery, Temperance, Whiskeytown and Prosit are a few of the interesting names that have been given to some of Uncle Sam's 36,605 post offices, Postmas-ter Geenral Arthur E. Summerfield noted in a recent interview.

While pointing out the uniqueness of many of the names, Mr. Summerfield emphasized the need for carefully and legibly written addresses, no matter how rare the name of the post office may appear to be. Proper addressing includes identifying the thoroughfare as to street, avenue, boulevard, etc.; using the postal zone number when there is one; and fully and clearly spelling out state names rather than abbreviating them. A return address is also essential, the PMG dress is also essential, the PMG added.

Many post offices have been named for animals, birds and fish. Georgia and Washington each have a Tiger and there is a Lionville, Pa. When the twenty-fourth Sojex opens at the Hotel Jefferson, Atlantic City, N. J. on Friday, October 23, the feature will be the silver anniversary convention of the American Philatelic Congress. The event, which extends to Sunday, October 25, will also initiate the first convention for a specialist group which has existed for several years without a national meeting — the Germany Philatelic Society.

At a joint meeting of representatives of the Assn. of South Jersey Stamp Clubs, the American Philatelic Congress and the Germany Philatelic Society in the Hotel Plaza, Camden, N. J., on January 4, preliminary plans were formulated and a plan of action laid down.

Representing the Assn. were George E. Sweigart, president: Reba Sweigart, recording secretary, Mary M. Gormley, first vice president: E. Hugo Stempner, and Clifford F. Bieber. Present for the Congress were David Lidman, president: Mrs. Conway Zirkle, secretary-treasurer; and Robert B. Brandeberry. The Germany Philatelic Society sent its president, Harry C. While the social side will not be stressed as strongly as last year's cooperative venture with the American Philatelic Society and the Confedent Sterm Alliance there will federate Stamp Alliance, there will be banquets, luncheons and cocktail parties as welcome breaks from the more serious meetings.

The Congress will be issuing invitations to prominer engineer

Tvedt Urges Juniors To Note "Interposta"

A special section has been reserved at the International Philatelic Exhibition, "INTERPOSTA, HAMBURG", May 21-30, for the young collectors of the world. On the subject of active junior participation, Reidar Tvedt, Director of Postal Administration of the United Nations, has addressed to the young collectors of the world as follow: "A splendid opportunity is yours, young stamp collectors of the world, as you meet in Hamburg on the eve of Interposta 1959, — the opportunity of making friends with boys and girls from many lands, whose ways of life may be different to yours, but who share your interest in philately and your hopes as future citizens of the world.

"I want to urge you, with all my heart, to give the very best that is in you to this meeting. Go in a spirit of curiosity, of tolerance, of friend-liness, of hope to create a peaceful world for yourselves and your children.

"Please go and see the exhibition dren.

"Please go and see the exhibition of United Nations postage stamps, and think about the United Nations: and think about the United Nations: what it is, what it does, and what it hopes that you will do when you come of age . . Remember always that the flag of the United Nations, like a prayer sent upwards, is a symbol of our faith in the ideal of international brotherhood, and of our faith in you," he emphasized.

Building, Symbols On Liberian UN Pair

The Post Office Department of Liberia has announced that on or about May 11 there would be released a bicolored set of stamps commemorating the inauguration of the new headquarters of UNESCO in Paris.

The set consists of two stamps, a 25c regular postage and a 25c airmail having a total face value of 50c. The postage item, magenta and green, shows symbols of UNESCO, while the airmail, royal blue and red, presents the UNESCO building in Paris.

In addition, there is to be a miniature souvenir sheet bearing both stamps, also having a face value of

SPECIALIZED U.S.

A prominent eastern wholesale: recently offered some fine lots of early airmail, black Harding and 2c and 5c commemoratives. The lots were not large but the computed value figured against Gibbons retail was pretty high on most lots. The reason for some was the arrow blocks and center line blocks that were a part of some of the airmail stamps. The asking price was reasonable enough on the Gibbons retail basis but the point is that PRECANCEL collectors don't buy arrow blocks or centerline blocks or the like. So the buyer will have to try to sell to a U S. collector who is not too particular. I remember when the 30c bison stamp appeared with the saift in the lettering. Some dealers tried to capitalize on that through the precancel collectors, but the latter just did not respond. Sure an occasional denomination collector got one for his collection but after that, that was it. A prominent eastern wholesale: re was it.

I don't even recall getting a re-I don't even recall getting a request to hunt one up for any collector. My point is not to run down specialization of U.S. stamps — that is fine for those who like it and can afford it — but I am simply reporting that such things seldom appeal to a precancel collector.

BULLETIN BOARD

The March bulletin of the Pacific Northwest Precancel Club was mailed from Houghton, Wash. with 1c and 2c Liberties, type U-120n. The Kansas Precancel Society bulletin with 1c and 2c Liberties from Liebenthal, Kansas is a new rubber type U-131.

"The Precancel Yankee" bulletin of the New England Club was mailed with a 3c Salmon from Petershar, Mass., type u-121n. I assume that a card from State College N. M. was the New Mexico Club. They used a 1c and 2c Liberty and the type was U-121n.

Special Delivery Plate List Offered

A checklist of plate numbers of all U. S. special delivery stamps from Number One of October 1, 1885, to date has been compiled and issued by Robert L. Markovits 37 Royce Ave., Middletown, N. Y. The result of many hours of research and study, Mr. Markovits has based his effort upon the earlier undertaking of Harold Billian of the Bureau Issues Assn sues Assn.

The plate number area of the special delivery field has long been a neglected phase of philately, according to the author, and he is interested in hearing from other collectors concerned with it, as well as in obtaining all possible additional information to add to his compilation.

Copies of the new checklist are offered free to collectors sending stamped addressed envelopes with their requests to Mr. Markovitz at the above address.

Dealer * Doings

Specialists in the issues of foreign countries issuing philatelic tributes to the United Nations usually learn in short order that some of the more desirable items are by no means readily found, and that only a spe-cialist dealer can produce them. For these yearning stampers A. Coleman, 2264 Creston Ave., New York 53, N.Y. offers an interesting free price list.

The Belham Exchange, Box 119 Ridgewood Stn., Brooklyn 27, N. Y. has long specialized in the better grade aeronautica material, and down through the years has developed an excellent stock in the field, including Polar and IGY material. The firm offers for 10c an elevenpage price list of Polar covers which is in fact a quite comprehensive catalog of the field.

Stanley Gibbons, Inc., 38 Park Row, New York 38, reports that the firm's first edition 1959 catalog and price list lasted but six weeks, and that the revised second edition '59 is now ready. Numerous price changes are noted in early commems and airmails, while the Hawaiian section has been well revised. The 25c price list covers U. S. and possessions. sessions.

Free for three 4c stamps (7c-ers, if airmail service is desired) is a three-month subscription to the R. G. Provost Co. monthly "Bargain Counter" for dealers and investors. The current issue shows activity in the FDC field, also mint plate blocks by position some nice complete colby position, some nice complete collections both U. S. and foreign, and a few "missing 'I" 3c postal cards.

Germany Society Editor To Visit "INTERPOSTA"

He will also participate in the show by exhibiting one of his German collections. more Street, West Hollywood, Florida (tifs)
